"I've known John for years and support his commitment to helping Americans climb the economic ladder. He has been in close contact with poor and working people and has studied the issues that impact them. It's a new way of approaching a presidential campaign—from the bottom up, rather than from the top down—and his success will set a wonderful precedent for how future presidential campaigns are run."

—Congressman Mel Watt (D-NC)

"The North Carolina delegation unanimously supports John's candidacy because we know his character, leadership ability, and commitment to our country. John's vision for our country is one of opportunity and common-sense solutions to the challenges we face."

—Congressman David Price (D-NC)

Edwards on Unions

"More than ever, America needs a president who will stand up for working families and the middle class. I have walked picket lines and helped organize thousands of workers, and I've seen firsthand what unions go through every single day trying to protect the right to organize, trying to bargain collectively, and trying to get a decent wage and health care. If we're going to grow the middle class and ensure fairness, we need to strengthen workers' rights. I have always stood on the side of working Americans, and I always will."

Edwards on Education

"The chance to go to college meant everything in my life, and I want every young person to have the same chance. ... Unfortunately, for too many families, this chance is out of reach. College for Everyone will open the door to a higher education for millions of young people, so they have the opportunity to realize the American Dream. Every young person who is willing to work hard should have the chance to get an education and get ahead."

Edwards on Civil Rights

"We must never forget what the achievements of all of our civil rights pioneers contributed to America. We would best honor their courage today by recommitting ourselves to giving every single child the opportunity to go as far as their dreams and God-given potential will take them."
